The values in this event are so amazing, so absolutely without equal, that an explanation is called for. A year ago we resolved upon a new merchandising policy. We closed up our 3 Greater New York Stores that were costing us $65,000 a year in rent and $15,000 a year more in managerial and window-trimming expense, and took a mammoth second floor location at only $7,500 a year—on the theory that this enormous saving would enable us to give our customers far greater value for their

Today this shop does probably the largest business in Men's Clothing in all New York, proving the soundness of that theory. As an indication of what we have been able to do in effecting lowered prices for our customers, take this event we advertise today: Forty famous nationally-advertised brands of Clothes for Men-more than 3,000 Suits and Overcoats in all garments that have an established retail selling price of $25 to $40-all at the one flat price of $18.50. And, mind, these are allwool and hand-tailored, every one of them. Do you need more convincing evidence of our valuegiving power and ability to save you money?
